

INTERNATIONAL MICROINSURANCE CONFERENCE – BIMA AND THE “PACIFIC WAY”

NOVEMBER 2016

BIMA
PROTECTING THE FUTURE OF EVERY FAMILY

1 Informal insurance: "Wantok" system

- Strong sense of community
- "Wantok System"
- Distrust in external help

3 Literacy level and insurance awareness

- Illiteracy
- Low bank penetration
- Extremely low insurance awareness

2 Infrastructure

- Shortage of physical network of communication
- No large city

4 Traditional sales methods

- Expensive real estate
- Exposure to crime
- No tele-marketing
- Hardly any street sale

1 LEAN MANAGEMENT STRATEGY

- Fast launch with a simple product and a small team
- Introduction of new feature through a reiterative approach & customer feedback loop

2 LEVERAGING THE BENEFITS OF MOBILE TECHNOLOGIES

- 'Paper-less' enrolment
- Airtime as a payment channel
- Device-blind channels for customer communication & claims

3 FOCUS ON REACH, DOWN TO INDIVIDUAL LEVEL

- Education: call centre & mobile agents; field trips to remote areas
- Localisation: Sales script in Tok Pisin; local training
- Reach: Regional offices and Digicel branches

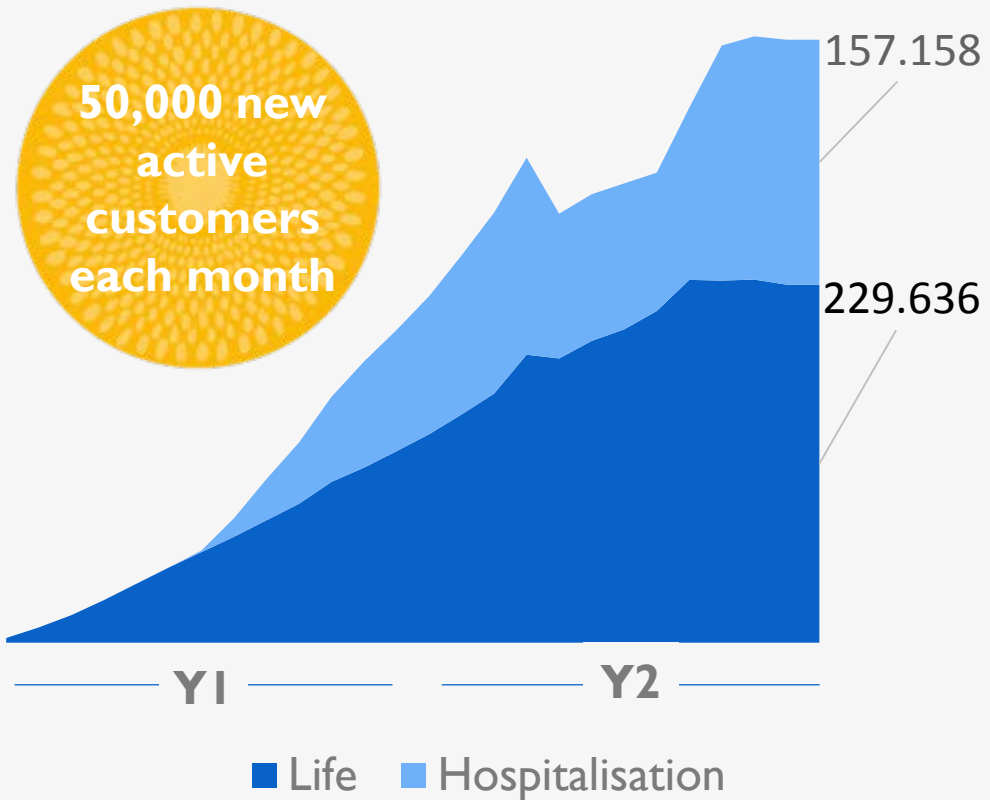

4 PARTNERSHIP WITH RELEVANT ORGANISATIONS:

- PFIP funding to enable expansion to difficult areas like the Highlands

ACTIVE CUSTOMERS PER PRODUCT

69%

HAVE OR WILL RECOMMEND BIMA

32%

RURAL CUSTOMERS

84%

ACCESS INSURANCE FOR THE 1ST TIME

EXPANSION TO OTHER PACIFIC COUNTRIES

- On the back of our successful collaboration in PNG, we have been helped by PFIP to experiment in the Pacific a new model that would allow us to reach smaller markets.
- This “hub model” allows us to approach even more underserved populations, but involves also a lot of challenges
- Fiji hub opened in August 2016. More countries to be covered soon

Supported by

MICRO-BANK PARTNERSHIP

- Addressing clients of micro-bank institutions in the Pacific to reach new groups of customers
- Product in design phase

In partnership with

THANK YOU

BIMA
PROTECTING THE FUTURE OF EVERY FAMILY