

Renate Bleich

Graduate in Economic Geography; Chair of the Munich Re Foundation

Renate Bleich was appointed Chair of the Munich Re Foundation in November 2020. She joined Munich Re in 2003 and held various positions in Munich Re Group. Prior to joining the Foundation, she was Head of Sustainability at Munich Re, being responsible for further developing Munich Re's sustainability strategy and putting the Group's activities in a wider context, e.g. the SDG's. One particular focus of her work was on climate change. She led the Group's engagement on integrating Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) factors into Munich Re's insurance and investment processes, and was responsible for the Group's environmental footprint management.

The Foundation addresses major global challenges – environmental and climate change, water as a resource and risk factor, population growth, disaster prevention and poverty reduction.
