His Excellency, Ram Sahaya Yadav (Vice President of Nepal)

“Insurance can strengthen a country’s economy. The poor and the deprived can achieve economic security. Inclusive insurance allows them to remain safe in any unexpected event.

We need to educate people about the importance of insurance. Governments and insurance companies should work together to ensure that every person has access to insurance – in both rural and urban areas.”

Jeffrey D. Sachs (President – UN Sustainable Development Solutions Network, USA)

“Every sector of every economy needs to be able to participate in the modern insurance industry. This is sadly not the case. We are going into reverse – climate shocks are leading to a loss of insurance coverage. We need to redesign public policies to improve insurance coverage.”

Arup K. Chatterjee (Principal Financial Sector Specialist, ADB, Philippines)

“Many millions of people in our region (Asia) are either uninsured or underinsured. ... concentrate on affordability, accessibility, awareness, administration and trust.

...

Insurance has the power to transform. Use it well, and we can indeed create” insurance for all”.

...

Governments can better prepare for economic fluctuations by implementing countercyclical mechanisms including insurance.”
