

SESSION A8:

After relocations: on community wellbeing, cohesion, and livelihoods

14th September 2023, Thursday
15:00 – 16:30 CEST

What are the long-term impacts and implications on residents' livelihoods after relocation?

What roles can external actors in NGOs and governments play to support relocation decision-making and planning?

What are the shortcomings and opportunities of relocation?

Organized by:

In collaboration with:

Presentations

- A livelihood analysis of climate-related relocation: are people better off ten years on?
- Dr Annah Piggott-McKellar, Queensland University of Technology, Australia
- Leaving to stay, 'staying' to live: social and environmental aspects of planned relocation from slums to new housing in African cities
- Dr Olumuyiwa Adegun, Federal University of Technology, Nigeria
- Grassroots Insights into Risk and Resilience: Rethinking the Role of Community in Climate-induced Relocations for Afghan Refugees in Iran
- Narjes Zivdar, UNHCR, Iran
- Following planned relocation over time in Mozambique: Winners, losers, and remaining challenges
- Dr. Carolien Jacobs, Leiden University, Netherlands
- From Strangers to Neighbors: Strategies for successful long-term resettlement
- Dr. Ryan Alaniz, California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo, USA

Moderated Discussion and Q&A

Ann-Christine Link, UNU-EHS