

Pricing in Microinsurance -Sessions 5 & 9

8th International Microinsurance Conference 2012

November 7th 14h00 – 18h00

Draft Agenda

Key Objective: Present the pricing process for Microinsurance and launch of the Actuarial training module

Based on a participatory exercise, and on the audience experience, the key steps involved in determining a premium will be identified and discussed, highlighting the specificities for Microinsurance. We will also present the Actuarial module which is an education & training module to help practitioners and technical parties in understanding and following the key steps and process to determine an actuarially sound premium. The module will be used to illustrate a worked case study based on a real life microinsurance product.

Who should attend:

The session is open to all participants who are interested in this topic, but will be of particular use for practitioners who are developing microinsurance products and grappling with how to determine a premium. The approach will be quite interactive and we will encourage active participation. We will be looking at presenting this important and (sometimes) complicated topic in a fun and learning environment.
